DESCRIPTION OF AASSD COLLEGE MENTORING

During SY 2012-13, African American Student Services partnered with the National Society for Black Engineers (NSBE) and the University of Arizona to provide Saturday STEM tutoring. Students had many opportunities to receive mentorship at these events.

The following college-mentoring activities also took place:

- The NSBE chapter at the University of AZ (U of A) also attended some of the NSBE Jr. meetings held in two District middle schools (Doolen and Mansfeld).
- Partnered with the engineering students to host a pre-college initiative at the U of A, school of engineering building, during April 2013. This was a one-day event connecting District high school students with U of A college students and professors.
- Partnered with the Tucson High (THS) Black Culture Club group to send 15 (or more) students on a Black College Tour during spring-break 2013.
- Partnered with the U of A, Black Law Club to establish a law club at THS.

Additional mentoring services were provided in partnership with Goodwill and Family Resources.

Description: The District shall collaborate with local colleges and universities and identify college students, including District alumni, to provide learning support and guidance to African American students through mentoring, teaching assistance and other methods. As part of the AASSD plan to provide learning support and guidance to African American students by college students, AASSD worked closely with local organizations to recruit college students as mentors/volunteers.

Process: The African American Student Services Department implements several types of mentoring opportunities: 1) 1:1, 2) small group and large group workshops. The purpose of the mentoring partnerships is to build positive relationships with community organizations to support academic, cultural, and social experiences for students. The purpose of these relationships are twofold: 1) To serve as a conduit for connecting students, families and schools with community resources, and 2) To increase the number of positive role models students are able to connect with, and to learn about careers, leadership skills, and college prep.

Mentor/Volunteer Partnerships: AASSD employees one Mentor Program Specialist and two Student and Family Mentor Specialists during the 2013-2014 school year. The specialists served as mentors working with students to address academic and/or behavior needs (e.g., scholarship information, credit review, leadership development, and discipline). However, staff serving as Academic Specialist also provided mentor support and facilitated mentor/volunteer opportunities for students. The following is a list of partnerships implemented during the 2013 – 2014 school year (see appendix):

- Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority (monthly workshops at Booth-Fickett)
- Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity (Go-to-High School, Go-to-College 1-day event)
- Congressman Grijalva’s office (Historical Black College Expo)
- Delta Sigma Theta Sorority (monthly workshops at Tucson High)
- Goodwill Industries (support the bi-weekly Male Leadership Academy)
- Links Organization (STEM middle and high school support, Cragin ES)
- National Society for Black Engineers (bi-weekly STEM at Doolen MS and Mansfeld MS)
- Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity (support Male Leadership Academy)
- Pima Community College – West Campus
- Pima Community College – Grants Office
- Southern Arizona Black College Community Support Group (Heritage Day, college planning and Male Leadership development)
- Tuskegee University (site visits to Palo Verde and Tucson High)
- Tucson High Black Culture Club – Black College Tour (multiple Historical Black Colleges like Jackson State, Morehouse, Spellman, Xavier)
- University of Arizona – Africana Studies Program Internship (mentoring at Roskruge, Rincon, Booth-Fickett)
- University of Arizona – Academic Outreach Office (support Cradle to College event for middle school students and parents)
- University of Arizona – African American Student Affairs (summer leadership workshop)
- University of Arizona – Black Graduate Association (planning for fall 2014)
- University of Arizona – Project SOAR (support at Doolen MS)
- University of Arizona – College of Medicine (support Cradle to College event for middle school students)
- Zeta Phi Beta Sorority – U of A Chapter (present at Parent University to students and parents)
In addition to the aforementioned organizations, other college students and community members volunteered in a school (i.e., Roberts/Naylor K-8) to promote mentoring and college and career awareness.

Male Leadership Academy: The Male Leadership Academy (MLA) is a bi-weekly Saturday mentoring program serving students in grades middle and high school. The program focuses on leadership and life-skills development. The success of this program is based on reducing suspensions and increasing attendance and academic success. Students meet with current college students and college graduates working in the community, and attended events at the University of Arizona (i.e., football game, Cradle to College). Workshop topics include first impressions, steps to success, mental models, goal setting. This year we expanded the MLA to provide support during the school day at Booth-Fickett, Gridley and Vail MS).

Student-to-Student Mentoring: This summer the department mentor program specialist is recruiting academically successful African American students to participate in a series of workshops to prepare them for mentoring incoming 9th graders at their school.

What Worked:

- Increased the number of community partners providing mentoring and/or resources to support mentoring students
- Increased the level of partnership with the University of Arizona
- Growth of the Black College Tour
- Implemented Project SOAR partnership with Doolen MS
- 4,300 hours providing mentoring and/or empowerment/leadership development with students as a result of department and community collaborations

Areas for Growth:

- Greater consistency of team to include sign-in sheets with Grant Tracker data
- Mentor Training: District-wide common training workshops addressing mentoring along with a handbook for all mentors/volunteers in TUSD
- Pre and post assessments to be determined

You are all Precious Jewels

Keep your head up,
You have a right to be proud.

Look at you!
Beauty and Brains,
Who can touch that?
Do you realize the power
In your step?
Your smile?
Your attitude?
A Precious Jewel

Don’t you see the beauty in

Your confidence?

Compassion?

And laughter?

INTERNERSHIP AFFILIATION AGREEMENT
UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

This Agreement is entered into as of December 2, 2013 (the "Effective Date"), by and between the ARIZONA BOARD OF REGENTS, for and on behalf of the UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA ("University"), and the TUCSON UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT ("TUSD").

1. Term. The Term of this Agreement is for one calendar year commencing on the Effective Date. It may thereafter be renewed for successive one-year terms upon the express written consent of both parties, except that either Party may, at any time, with or without cause, cancel this Agreement by providing the other Party with ninety (90) days advance written notice.

2. Purpose and General Terms.

   a) University's School of International Languages, Literature and Cultures wants to establish an educational program ("Program") to benefit students ("Participating Students") by allowing them to obtain real-world experiences in a variety of settings in conjunction with TUSD's Department of African American Student Services ("DAASS"). TUSD wishes to assist University in establishing the Program by allowing Participating Students to observe its professional staff performing their duties in such real-world settings. The Program, including Participating Student time commitments and duties, is more fully described in the attached "Partnership Description" which is made a part hereof by reference.

   b) University and TUSD will agree on schedules for Participating Students performing duties at TUSD. Each Participating Student is expected to comply with all applicable TUSD policies, standards, and directives. TUSD may relieve a Participating Student from further Program participation if, in its sole discretion, it believes that such student has violated its policies, standards, and/or directives. In such case, TUSD will give University an opportunity to nominate another student to replace the student who was relieved.

c) Neither University nor TUSD is obligated to provide transportation to any Participating Student to or from TUSD.

d) Representatives of University and TUSD will participate in a meeting or telephone conference at least one time each semester to evaluate, among other things, Program objectives, changes or enhancements thereto, and the performance of Participating Students. Statements of Program performance objectives will be the joint responsibility of University and TUSD personnel.

e) Participating Students’ educational records are protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. §1232g; 34 CFR Part 99. Accordingly, TUSD must obtain express written permission from any Participating Student before releasing any data pertaining to such student to anyone other than to University. The University will provide guidance to TUSD, as needed, with respect to complying with FERPA.

f) There will be no compensation or financial exchange between the University, TUSD, or Participating Students; Participating Students, therefore, will not be compensated by TUSD or University for their participation in the Program.

3. TUSD’s Obligations.

a) TUSD shall retain ultimate control and authority over all on-site aspects of educational services relating to its students, including training of Participating Students. TUSD shall be responsible for providing full-time direct supervision of Participating Students while such students are on its premises and their acts shall be subject to prior review and approval by TUSD’s professional staff. TUSD shall be proactive in informing its staff and others concerning the training role of Participating Students in order to prevent any mistaken impression as to their status.

b) The Director of the DAASS or his/her designee shall serve as the Program liaison to University.

c) Upon University’s request, TUSD will complete such records, including time, attendance, and performance evaluation records, pertaining to Participating Students, as may from time-to-time be requested by University. University will only ask TUSD to evaluate the on-site performance of Participating Students in the Program to assist University in assigning grades and providing feedback to such students. The content, format, and timing of submission for such records will be established by University in consultation with TUSD.

d) TUSD will provide orientation to Participating Students with regard to hours of participation, place of duties, conditions of its premises, standards of conduct, confidentiality, and facility safety procedures and operations. TUSD will provide Participating Students with at least the same safety training it provides to its regular employees working under similar conditions. TUSD will alert each Participating Student and the University of any non-obvious dangers associated with facilities, activities, and the surrounding locales of which it is aware and as to which Participating Students may be assigned.

e) TUSD will permit representatives of the University to perform on-site visitations in order to observe and evaluate the performance of Participating Students.

f) TUSD will not impair its existing contracts for service with any work performed by Participating Students.

g) TUSD is responsible for the acts and omissions of its employees and agents and must maintain adequate insurance (which may include a bona fide self-insurance program) to cover any liability arising from the acts and omissions of its employees and agents.

4. University's Obligations.

a) University will establish, maintain, and communicate to Participating Students, the academic, curriculum and confidentiality standards and educational policies for the Program.

b) University will screen eligible students and select as Participating Students only those individuals who meet the minimum qualifications set forth in the attached Partnership Description. University will notify potential Participating Students that TUSD reserves the right to perform a criminal background check (which may include fingerprinting) at its own expense. University shall only refer such students to TUSD as are willing to undergo such criminal background checking.

c) University shall maintain in place comprehensive general liability insurance coverage in accordance with Arizona Revised Statues §§ 41-621 et seq. (State of Arizona Self-Insured Program), or amendments thereto, or other pertinent statues. Maintenance of such coverage shall not constitute acceptance of TUSD's tender of defense of allegations of negligence against Participating Students to the University.

a) Nondiscrimination. The parties agree to comply with all applicable state and federal laws, rules, regulations and executive orders governing equal employment opportunity, nondiscrimination and immigration.

b) Conflict of Interest. This Agreement is subject to Section 38-511, Arizona Revised Statutes.
c) Arbitration. This Agreement is subject to arbitration to the extent allowed under A.R.S. §§ 12-133 and - 1518 and Rule 4.2 of the Local Rules of the Pima County Superior Court.

d) Parties' Obligations. The parties recognize that their respective performances under this Agreement may be dependent upon the appropriation of funds by their respective governing bodies. Should the necessary funds for either party to continue the Program be reduced during the fiscal year, such party may reduce the scope of this Agreement if appropriate or cancel the Agreement without further duty or obligation. Such party agrees to notify the other party as soon as reasonably possible after the unavailability of said funds comes to its attention.

e) TUSD's Records. TUSD agrees to retain all records relating to the Agreement and to make those records available at all reasonable times for inspection and audit by the University or the Auditor General of the State of Arizona during the term of this Agreement and for a period of five (5) years after the completion of this Agreement.

f) Indemnity. Neither party to this Agreement agrees to indemnify the other party or hold harmless the other party from liability hereunder. However, if Arizona law provides for either a right to indemnity and/or a right to contribution to any party to this Agreement, then the right to pursue one or both of these remedies is preserved.

6. Miscellaneous.

a) Nothing in this Agreement shall be interpreted as creating an employment relationship between Participating Students and the University or TUSD.

b) Neither party will assign this Agreement without the consent of the other party.

c) This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and understanding of the parties with respect to its subject matter. No prior or contemporaneous agreement or understanding will be effective. This Agreement is governed by the laws of Arizona, the courts of which state shall have jurisdiction over its subject matter.

The Tucson Black College Cultural Tour Curriculum

Tour Advisor: Levette McEady
Title: School Counselor, Tucson High School
Curriculum Coordinator: Desiree Cueto
Department: African American Student Services

General Overview: The Tucson Black College Cultural Tour offers students in TUSD an opportunity to visit Historical Black Colleges and Universities in the United States. This year, the tour will focus on southern-region colleges and universities by traveling through Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

Description:
On this tour, participants will be invited to engage in a wide range of Black cultural experiences. Students will participate in college tours, historic site visits, and excursions that lead to discussions on how African Americans have contributed to the fabric and culture of the United States. They will connect significant historical events to the current political and social environment for Black people in the United States, and particularly in Tucson, Arizona.

Tour Intent:
The purpose of this tour is to give participants an opportunity to explore the many aspects of Black history and culture; the HBCUs, historic sites, people who fought for equality; and the significant cultural contributions made by African Americans. These experiences will provide a foundation for learning in the broader content areas.

The primary learning intent of this tour is to facilitate an exploration of culture for students in a way that is personally meaningful to them. This tour will include visits to the following sites:

- New Orleans, French Quarter
- Martin Luther King Jr., Historical Sites
- Rosa Parks Museum and Library
- Coca-Cola Studio
- CNN Studio
- Georgia Aquarium
- Olympic Park
- Dillard University
- Xavier University
- Southern University
- Jackson State University
- Alabama State University
- Tuskegee University
- Grambling State University
- Spelman College
- Morehouse College
- Clark Atlanta University
- Alcorn State University
- Alabama A&M University
- Stillman College
- Concordia College
Learning Projects

1. The Black College Culture Tour Resource Portfolio
   The BCCT research portfolio is a signature assignment for this tour. This portfolio will be compiled in a three-ring binder, and divided into three sections. The purpose of this portfolio is to gather and organize information and resources from the tour. Therefore, the sections of the students’ portfolio will include:

   Section 1 – Personal Responses
   Students will write daily responses to be kept in this section of the portfolio. Response may include comments about the memories and feelings brought forth by the various sites they visited, or new understandings or perspectives gained from going to the site. Responses may be in the form of narrative or expository writing, sketching, webs or other graphic organizers, or art work. Students are welcome to make personal connections by adding personal photographs, etc.

   Section 2 - College Knowledge
   Projects and handouts that reflect knowledge of what different colleges have to offer in terms of courses, financial aide and scholarships. Artifacts in this section include: applications, admissions requirements, history of the university, interviews with college personnel or classroom visit reflections.

   Section 3 - Reference Sources and Resources
   Projects and handouts that reflect knowledge and use of reference sources on black history or culture and how to locate information on HBCUs. Artifacts in this section include online resources, websites, photographs and handouts from various sites.

2. The Black College Culture Tour Final Inquiry Project:
   This final inquiry project is an opportunity for students to explore a topic of their own interest and to dig deeply into a facet of black history and culture. Once they have returned to Tucson, students will be required present these projects at a district-led function for sponsors and community members.

   - The presentation will include a visual display, an overview of the students’ experience on the tour, pictures and a handout for sponsors.

3. The Black College Culture Tour Final Self-Evaluation:

   - Self-evaluation and reflection are significant to the tour. At the end of the tour, students will write an overall self-evaluation of their learning throughout the tour. This evaluation will be included in Section 1 of each student’s portfolio.

WHAT is federal student aid?
Federal student aid comes from the federal government—specifically, the U.S. Department of Education. It’s money that helps a student pay for higher education expenses (i.e., college, career school, or graduate school expenses).

Federal student aid covers such expenses as tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, and transportation. Aid also can help pay for a computer and for dependent care.

There are three main categories of federal student aid: grants, work-study, and loans. Check with your school's financial aid office to find out which programs the school participates in. Details about the federal student aid programs are on page 2 of this document.

WHO gets federal student aid?
Our most basic eligibility requirements are that you must
- demonstrate financial need (for most programs— to learn more, visit StudentAid.gov/how-calculated);
- be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen;
- have a valid Social Security number;
- register (if you haven’t already) with Selective Service, if you’re a male between the ages of 18 and 25;
- maintain satisfactory academic progress in college or career school; and
- show you’re qualified to obtain a college or career school education by
  - having a high school diploma or General Educational Development (GED) certificate or
  - completing a high school education in a home-school setting approved under state law.

Find more details about eligibility criteria at StudentAid.gov/eligibility.

HOW do you apply for federal student aid?
1. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®) at www.fafsa.gov.

If you need a paper FAFSA, you can get one from
- our website at www.fafsa.gov, where you can download a PDF, or
- our ED Pubs distribution center at www.edpubs.gov or toll-free at 1-877-433-7827.

For the 2014–15 award year, the FAFSA is available from Jan. 1, 2014, to June 30, 2015. But you need to apply as soon as you can! Schools and states often use FAFSA information to award nonfederal aid. Their deadlines are usually early in the year. You can find state deadlines at www.fafsa.gov or on the paper FAFSA. Check with the schools you’re interested in for their deadlines.

2. Review your Student Aid Report. After you apply, you’ll receive a Student Aid Report, or SAR. Your SAR contains the information reported on your FAFSA and usually includes your Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The EFC is an index number used to determine your eligibility for federal student aid. Review your SAR information and make any corrections or changes, if necessary. The school(s) you list on your FAFSA will get your SAR data electronically.

3. Contact the school(s) you might attend. Make sure the financial aid office at each school you’re interested in has all the information needed to determine your eligibility. If you’re eligible, each school’s financial aid office will send you an aid offer showing the amount and types of aid (from all sources) the school will offer you. You can compare aid offers from the schools to which you applied and see which school is the most affordable once financial aid is taken into account.

HOW YOU CAN HELP IMPROVE YOUR CHILD’S EDUCATION

Set clear expectations
• Let your child know you expect him or her to go to college—nothing less.

Be an advocate at school
• Meet with your child’s teachers and counselor. Together, map a course of study that prepares your child for college. Ask to see your child’s schedule and transcript. Be sure your child is taking college-prep courses, including honors, Advanced Placement, and dual enrollment if available. It is never too early to plan for college—as early as middle school—and it is important to let the school know you expect your child to attend college.
• Get a copy of the state academic standards for each subject, and make sure you know what your child should be learning. Look at your child’s homework and ask for a syllabus or outline of the work your child will receive during the year. If you’re alarmed after comparing the state standards with the syllabus or outline of the homework, discuss your concerns with the teacher and principal. For more information, see our homework guide at www.edtrust.org.
• If your child struggles in a specific subject, ask the teacher or principal about a plan to help your child learn. (Beware if they lack a plan or tell you not to worry.) Insist your child receive appropriate extra help through tutoring, after-school support, and lunch-time support—whatever it takes.
• Check with the principal to find out whether your child’s teachers are certified to teach a specific subject and their number of years of experience. If you’re dissatisfied, ask for a different teacher.
• Ask the principal for data to find out how the school’s African-American students score on tests, how many graduate, and how many go on to college. If your child’s school is doing poorly, reach out to other parents and express your concerns collectively.

Be an advocate at home
• Find out the high school course requirements for competitive four-year colleges that interest you and your teenager. Check the admissions page on the college’s Web site for this information as well as www.collegeboard.org. And find out whether your state requires any extra courses for graduation (such as health, physical education, and art).
• Learn all you can about college financial aid. Students and parents often overestimate the costs and underestimate the amount of available financial aid. Use the FAFSA4caster to receive an early estimate of how much federal student aid your child is eligible for. https://fafsa4caster.ed.gov.
• Find out which colleges offer your child the best chances of success. Visit College Results Online, www.collegeresults.org, to compare different colleges’ graduation rates and to find those with a strong track record of graduating African-American students.
• Find outside help to navigate the college admissions process. Many libraries, community centers, and colleges themselves offer help to students and parents, including help filling out college application and financial aid forms.

ABOUT THE EDUCATION TRUST
The Education Trust promotes high academic achievement for all students at all levels—pre-kindergarten through college. We work alongside educators, parents, policymakers, and community and business leaders across the country to help transform schools and colleges into institutions that serve all students well. Lessons learned in these efforts, together with unflinching data analyses, shape our state and national policy agendas. Our goal is to close the gaps in opportunity and achievement that consign far too many young people—especially those who are black, Latino, American Indian, or from low-income families—to lives on the margins of the American mainstream.

This publication is made possible through the generous support of the Annie E. Casey Foundation.

A GUIDE FOR AFRICAN-AMERICAN PARENTS

How to Help Your Child

Prepare for College and Career

THIS GUIDE SHOWS YOU

- Why your child needs to prepare for college and a career
- How to tell if your child's school has college-ready academic standards
- The special hurdles facing African American students
- How to be an effective advocate for your child.
The adolescent years often bring stormy weather for teens and parents alike. When you’re arguing over grades, dates, chores, or simple respect, it’s easy to lose sight of long-term goals that could secure your child’s future. But now’s the time to plan for success.

Just as President Obama has set a goal of returning America to world leadership in college attendance, you and your family need to focus squarely on the road to opportunity for your child: a rigorous high school academic program that leads not just to college admission but to college success as well.

Because equality for our kids remains a work in progress, African-American parents must be prepared to stand up for their child’s right to a good education. And that means helping them get the classes they need now for success beyond high school.
The adolescent years often bring stormy weather for teens and parents alike. When you're arguing over grades, dates, chores, or simple respect, it's easy to lose sight of long-term goals that could secure your child's future. But now's the time to plan for success.

Because equality for our kids remains a work in progress, African-American parents must be prepared to stand up for their child's right to a good education. And that means helping them get the classes they need now for success beyond high school.
HELP YOUR CHILD PREPARE FOR COLLEGE AND A CAREER

Consider this: In 1950, 60 percent of jobs were filled by unskilled workers, but by 2005, just 14 percent of jobs fell into this category. Today, even fewer jobs exist for people without education beyond high school. What’s more, many entry-level jobs that don’t require a college degree require the same skills all colleges require—an ability to speak and write clearly—and many occupations that may not require a bachelor’s degree nevertheless demand high-level math and science skills.

For example, plumbers and construction workers nowadays need four or five years of apprenticeship or training. They need to be able to understand complex technical manuals and solve problems that often involve applying skills in mathematics, physics, or statistics.

College graduates have access to many more jobs and are less likely to be unemployed than those with a high school diploma. Young people with college degrees are more likely to get a job with such benefits as health insurance, a retirement fund, paid vacations, and disability insurance. And according to the latest Census Bureau data, college grads on average earn far more annually as well:

- College diploma: $56,788
- High school diploma: $31,071
- No high school diploma: $20,873

Over a lifetime, the difference in salary between a high school graduate and a college graduate amounts to nearly $1 million. So it just makes good sense to help your child prepare now for college and a career.

IS YOUR CHILD’S SCHOOL FOCUSED ON SUCCESS BEYOND HIGH SCHOOL?

Today, many schools have exactly the right goal: educating all students for college and a career. These schools have high expectations. They hire the best teachers they can find. They’ve developed rigorous curricula and offer demanding courses. And teachers give students challenging assignments. No one makes excuses for low achievement; instead, principals and teachers work hard to give each student what he or she needs to succeed.

On the other hand, some schools talk a good game but are not really providing the best possible education. These schools give fancy names to simple courses that don’t prepare kids for college. They rate all their teachers “high quality,” not just the very best ones. And they allow students to take a hodgepodge of classes, not a well-planned sequence of courses that colleges expect students to master.

No matter where you live, you need to know the courses that can help your child get into college—and meet academic expectations once they enroll. Some states require all students to take college-prep courses to graduate, but many have mismatching requirements for high school graduation and college admission.

Remember, research clearly shows that the best predictor of college success is a rigorous high school program of study. So as you help your child explore options for college, you might find the college's catalogue or Web site lists courses like this:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Content Area</th>
<th>Common courses for college admission and success</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>English (4)</td>
<td>Four years of English</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Math (4)</td>
<td>Algebra 1, Geometry, Algebra 2, and high-level math in 12th grade</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Science (3)</td>
<td>At least three years with labs (typical courses include Biology, Chemistry, Physics)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Studies (3)</td>
<td>Typical courses include World History, American History, Civics, Economics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Language (2)</td>
<td>At least two years of a second language in sequence (i.e., Spanish 1, Spanish 2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Speak with your child's principal and teachers to find out whether the school really offers a college and career-ready curriculum. And make sure your child enrolls in the required classes and makes steady progress in earning the right credits needed to get into college—and succeed once there.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDENTS FACE SOME TOUGH CHALLENGES

Given lingering racism in this country, you won't be surprised to learn this: African-American students are much less likely than white students to have the most qualified teachers—the ones with the most experience and greatest expertise in the subject matter.

And many African-American students go to schools that do not even offer some of the high-level courses necessary for admission to the best colleges. This is a terrible injustice. The tragic consequence is that African-American graduates are nearly half as likely to finish high school with a rigorous academic diploma as white students.

The best schools encourage all students to aspire to the most challenging courses. Then they provide plenty of academic support for those struggling with assignments, and they don't lower standards. This support includes concentrated help on specific skill sets during the school day and extended-day options.

HOW YOU CAN BE AN EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE FOR YOUR CHILD

Until every school gives all students an education that prepares them for college and a career, African-American parents will have to fight for their children's future, class by class, teacher by teacher, and school by school. Your child deserves nothing less.

A strong high school education is a legacy that lasts, a gift that can propel your child on a journey of independence. When equipped with the learning today's world demands, our young people can begin to truly live their dreams.
you need to know the courses that can help your child get into college—and meet academic expectations once they enroll. Some states require all students to take college-prep courses to graduate, but many have mismatching requirements for high school graduation and college admission.

Remember, research clearly shows that the best predictor of college success is a rigorous high school program of study. So as you help your child explore options for college, you might find the college’s catalogue or Web site lists courses like this:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Content Area</th>

Speak with your child’s principal and teachers to find out whether the school really offers a college and career-ready curriculum. And make sure your child enrolls in the required classes and makes steady progress in earning the right credits needed to get into college—and succeed once there.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDENTS FACE SOME TOUGH CHALLENGES

Given lingering racism in this country, you won’t be surprised to learn this: African-American students are much less likely than white students to have the most qualified teachers—the ones with the most experience and greatest expertise in the subject matter.

And many African-American students go to schools that do not even offer some of the high-level courses necessary for admission to the best colleges. This is a terrible injustice.

The tragic consequence is that African-American graduates are nearly half as likely to finish high school with a rigorous academic diploma as white students.

The best schools encourage all students to aspire to the most challenging courses. Then they provide plenty of academic support for those struggling with assignments, and they don’t lower standards. This support includes concentrated help on specific skill sets during the school day and extended-day options.

HOW YOU CAN BE AN EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE FOR YOUR CHILD

Until every school gives all students an education that prepares them for college and a career, African-American parents will have to fight for their children’s future, class by class, teacher by teacher, and school by school. Your child deserves nothing less.

A strong high school education is a legacy that lasts, a gift that can propel your child on a journey of independence. When equipped with the learning today’s world demands, our young people can begin to truly live their dreams.
"College Knowledge" is a special edition of the African American Student Services Department's newsletter. In this issue, Desirée Cueto will feature news on the college admissions process, financial aid and scholarships. Students can then follow-up with AASSD Mentor and Academic Specialists for additional support and guidance.

Celebrating Student Success!
As we begin another wonderful school year, it is important to reflect on our previous year’s success!

AASSD was proud to honor 450 students in grades 6-12 at our 27th Annual Student Recognition Program.

Check-list
If you have not started the college application process already, begin now!
Here are a few suggestions:

☑️ DRAFT YOUR COLLEGE ESSAY
Focus on a topic. Write for 20 minutes. Proof read or read out loud. Make changes. Visit me for edits and suggestions!

☑️ EXPLORE COLLEGE CHOICES
Make a list of colleges or universities you may want to attend and discuss them with your parents, Mentor and Academic Specialists. Make arrangements to visit local area campuses, but research out-of-state and private schools as well! Many private schools provide full-scholarships based on need and merit.

☑️ FIND OUT MORE ABOUT FINANCIAL AID
Visit www.studentaid.ed.gov to learn more about financial aid. Even though you can’t submit a financial aid form (FAFSA) until January of your senior year, it's good to see what information you will need. Check with colleges to see if they require supplementary financial aid information.

☑️ GET ORGANIZED!
Put together a system to organize all your forms—perhaps for admissions, scholarships, financial aid, recommendations and essays/requirements!

SAT and ACT Test Dates for 2013-2014
SAT and ACT scores are used by colleges to determine student placement. Students’ scores are also consulted when distributing scholarship dollars. Juniors who have yet to take the ACT will want to test in September or October.

December 1, 2013 marks the Priority Deadline for most colleges and universities, and students who are not accepted by the December 1st deadline may not receive the scholarships they deserve. Visit www.collegeboard.org and www.actstudent.org for information on preparation and registration.

Your senior year is going to be a blur of classes, friends, sports, clubs and random moments. So, in the midst of the blur, look up, and take that final step to get to your dream school. With a little planning, and by following our tips, the application process is a breeze. Here’s how it works:

1. Finish your senior year strong!
2. Submit your complete UA application
3. Take your Next Steps (more on that later)

MAKE YOUR SENIOR YEAR REALLY COUNT

Here’s a quick guide to the ultimate senior year:

- Make sure you have taken all the required core high school classes. And yes, your second semester does count.
  - 4 yrs of English
  - 4 yrs of Mathematics
  - 3 yrs of Lab Science
  - 1 yr of Fine Arts
  - 2 yrs of the same 2nd Language
  - 2 yrs of Social Studies (1 yr of American History)

- Get your transcripts ready. Meet with your high school counselor to have them sent straight to the UA.

- Want to be considered for Honors and merit-based scholarships? Be sure to submit your test scores. UA school code 4832 (SAT) or 0098 (ACT).

Questions? Visit admissions.arizona.edu/steps for more info

APPLY TO THE UA TODAY

Remember, the application process is about showing us who you are. When you apply to the UA, think about what really makes you YOU. And remember, GPA and test scores aren’t everything; we do a comprehensive review and consider your course load, extracurricular activities, and more. Before you apply, here’s what you’ll need:

- A list of your extracurricular activities (sports, clubs, jobs, etc.)
- A list of completed courses as well as those you plan to complete your senior year

And if you have ANY questions, talk to one of our expert admissions counselors:

- 520.621.3337
- @UAAdmissions

A complete UA application means:

- You’ve filled in and submitted the online or paper application
- You’ve submitted the application processing fee or a waiver ($52 for AZ residents, $65 for out-of-state) if you’re an in-state student
- Your school has submitted your official transcripts
- You’ve sent in your SAT/ACT test scores (for merit-based scholarships and Honors College consideration)

ADMISSIONS.ARIZONA.EDU/APPLY

Apply and you can be considered for three things:

1. Undergraduate Admissions
2. The Honors College
3. Merit-Based Scholarships

Wilbur the Wildcat is our beyond-awesome mascot. The word 'mascot' doesn't really do him justice though. Dance champion, super hero, push-up champ, style icon. Those names do.
Set a timer for four years from now. Why? Because when you graduate, a whole stadium celebrates. Find it on YouTube.

In Campus Housing
Your residence hall is the place where you'll meet your first friends, stay up way past your bedtime, and learn how to make pilaf (so good). But that's only part of the story. Did you know that students in our residence halls have a 10% higher GPA than those who don't? Living on campus means you're closer to classes, advisors, clubs, libraries, and everything else you need to be successful.

Visit the Next Steps Center and register for housing by April 1 to guarantee your spot on campus.

Project SOAR Fact Sheet

Overview of Program
Project SOAR (Student Outreach for Access, & Resiliency) is a service-learning experience that routinely places over 100 UA undergraduate mentors in under-resourced, public middle schools in the Tucson area. These students are enrolled in either Higher Education (HED) 350 or HED 397B, both of which examine issues of college access. This College of Education program is housed within the Center for the Study of Higher Education in the Department of Educational Policy Studies and Practice.

Courses Associated with Project SOAR

HED 350
HED 350 is an upper-division undergraduate course that introduces students to the major theories and research conducted in areas of college access, outreach, academic achievement, and resiliency. Previously listed as HED 397A, this course has been offered since spring 2005, and has always included the Project SOAR service-learning component, which requires that the students mentor for at least 25 hours per semester. HED 350 is now offered during Fall and Summer I semesters. It has been approved as part of the General Education curriculum and is now a recognized Tier II INDV course; it is also a component of the Adolescents, Community and Education minor.

HED 397B
Though this course is a complement to HED 350, HED 350 is not a pre-requisite for HED 397B. Run as a small-group discussion section, this course emphasizes the mentoring experience, while providing supplemental instruction on the major theories and research conducted in areas of college access, outreach, academic achievement, and resiliency. The welcoming classroom environment allows returning students to fine-tune their mentoring skills while assisting classmates who are new to the program, and engages all students in academic coursework regarding current issues in K-12 education and college access. Students are required to spend an average of 1 to 2 hours per week at their assigned schools, for a semester total of approximately 25 hours of service.

Relationship with College of Science
In Summer 2010, Project SOAR partnered with the College of Science to create a section of SOAR specifically for CoS undergraduates. Beginning in 2011, CoS SOAR students and TAs will be actively involved in the SOAR Science Collaborative, a service-learning component specific to CoS SOAR that both enhances the CoS SOAR curriculum, and is designed by the science teachers and mentors to meet classroom learning objectives. The Collaborative, made up of 12 science teachers from participating SOAR middle schools and CoS SOAR mentors, will meet 5 times per year to design hands-on science activities for MS students, and to share best practices with one another. As participants span 6-8 middle schools and the university, the Collaborative allows members to share ideas and learn from one another in a setting otherwise unavailable. Additionally, the CoS SOAR graduate assistants will work with the CoS outreach centers (Biosphere 2, Flandrau Science Center, Marine Discovery, Steward Mirror Lab, etc.) to engage SOAR middle school mentees in science through campus visits and/or in bringing resources from these centers into the schools.
College of Science (CoS) SOAR

CoS SOAR is a discussion section of both HED 350 and HED 397B specifically designed for CoS undergraduates who are interested in combining science outreach with the mentoring they provide at local schools. The CoS SOAR discussion sections include discussions about science outreach in the middle schools, and the mentor format takes place with small groups of 3-5 middle schoolers on a weekly basis in a science classroom, while doing hands-on (mentor-led) science projects with the students.

Impact of Program
- Over 21,000 mentoring hours have been logged by SOAR students since 2005
- Over 2,000 middle school students have benefited from a SOAR mentor since 2005
- A 2011 mentee survey revealed that 73.3% of the middle school students believed they had a mentor who motivated them to do well in school, believed they could be a success (74%), and had increased their motivation to get good grades (67.9%)
- 72% of the middle school mentees surveyed agreed that their mentors had increased their interest in going to college. Additionally, mentors were credited for increasing their knowledge about getting into college (69.4%) and future careers (67%)

Program Leadership

Project SOAR was developed in 2005 and directed by Dr. Jenny Lee, Associate Professor and Director of the Center for the Study of Higher Education, from 2005 through Spring 2009. Associate Professor Dr. Regina Deil-Amen served as director during the 2009-10 academic year. Dr. Lydia Bell, Assistant Professor of Practice, currently serves as the director of Project SOAR.

Project SOAR Research Efforts

Research stemming from Project SOAR has been presented at the annual meetings of both the Association for the Study of Higher Education and the American Educational Research Association. Publications stemming from these research efforts, co-authored by Jenny Lee, Higher Ed. alumnae Michelle Espino and Stephanie Levitt, and current SOAR Director Lydia Bell, have been either accepted for publication or are under review in various education journals.

Dear Parent,

The National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) has a rewarding and exciting opportunity to offer your child who may one day be interested in pursuing degrees/careers with STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) related concentrations. NSBE is a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting African American students who are interested in future technical studies. In our more than 30 years of existence, NSBE has been represented by more than 350 universities and solid programs that encourage academic excellence, personal growth, and professional development.

NSBE strives to stimulate student interest in technical fields such as science, mathematics, and engineering. In response to the lack of African Americans pursuing degrees in engineering and science, we serve as a source of support to encourage students to attend college and pursue technical degrees. In this spirit, our Pre-College Initiative (PCI) Program is designed to address the following goals:

- To help students develop positive attitudes toward academic excellence
- To stimulate enthusiasm about engineering and science
- To raise cultural awareness among students
- To encourage and support parental commitment to their children’s education
- To increase the number of African American students attending and graduating from college, especially in the field of engineering and science
- To utilize NSBE undergraduate student members and professional alumni members as role models

The PCI program is structured so that your child becomes an active member of NSBE Jr. Chapters throughout the country. As a part of a NSBE Jr. Chapter, your child can enjoy a wide range of activities offered through the PCI program. By accepting this invitation to involve your child in a NSBE Jr. Chapter, you will establish a partnership with our more than 10,000 collegiate and professional members. Our members team up to offer your child activities that will enhance his/her academic and professional development.

Be sure to review the NSBE Jr. Constitution and by-laws at www.nsbe.org. If you need additional information please visit our website at www.nsbe.org or contact me. The registration fee for your child is $5 annually. If paying by check, please make them payable to NSBE Tucson Alumni Extension.

Sincerely,

Khary Tatum
Pre-College Initiative Chair

AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDENT AFFAIRS
FALL 2014 INTERNSHIP SYLLABUS
LASC 393

INSTRUCTORS/FACILITATORS: April Petillo, Community Facilitator/Graduate Assistant
African American Student Affairs (AASA)
Dr. Martin Luther King Bldg #209
apetillo@email.arizona.edu (email)
626-3419 (AASA office)

TIME:
Session Time-Time to be determined, set for Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday
Office Hours- by appointment

LOCATION: AASA, Conference Room

READINGS: Will be available each week on D2L or in session

Course Objectives
This course is designed as a theoretical and practical course focused on the experience of students in the African Diaspora in higher education administration, particularly around academic success and retention, social justice and academic activism. The main goal of this design is to prepare students to facilitate interactive dialogue in numerous settings.

The assignments in the internship course are specifically designed to encourage and enhance in-depth reflection and critical analysis of the experiences in the higher education environment. The practical assignments are to aid in the professional development of the students in the areas of student support services, event planning, and program coordination. Students earn 1 course credit (3 hours/wk) for demonstrating an understanding of the academic material AND performing associated tasks as assigned.

Specifically, as a student in this course you will have the opportunity to:

1. Develop an increased awareness of yourself as an individual and as a member of multiple social identity groups.
2. Learn more about your own and others’ cultures, histories, and experiences.
3. Explore commonalities and differences across cultural boundaries.
4. Develop effective facilitation skills, including communication, conflict exploration, and ally-building skills.
5. Identify actions that contribute toward social justice within communities.
6. Learn the process-content model components for successful dialogue facilitation.
7. Articulate the internal and external influences on identity and the process of self authorship.

Course Description
USP V.F.1.p
This course assumes that the most effective facilitators of multicultural group interactions possess a level of awareness, skill, knowledge, and passion. The topics of this course include social identity development; prejudice and stereotyping and their effects on groups; difference and dominance and the nature of social oppression; basic group facilitation skills and their applications in multicultural settings. We will address these and other topical areas through readings, videos, facilitated in-class dialogues, activities, simulations, role-plays, and reflective journal and writing assignments.

Course Format
Students will report for regular hours and be supervised through African American Student Affairs. Required hours will also include events outside of or in addition to regular meetings. Internship hours may be completed Monday through Friday, but also on nights and weekends in which events are held. Students will attend weekly team meetings, trainings, and hold regular office hours as needed and determined by their supervisor(s).

Attendance Policy
Students participating in the internship program must log weekly hours performed in conjunction with internship duties. If the student fails to attend any events in which he/she is working without prior permission from the Internship Supervisor, a failing grade may be given. In addition, each student will work collaboratively with the staff member overseeing his/her internship for specific attendance requirements (i.e. planning meetings, advising/supervising meetings, and class sessions).

Academic Integrity
Student work should be characterized by academic integrity and honesty. All students are expected to abide by the university’s code of academic integrity. The code can be found at: http://dos.web.arizona.edu/uapolicies/cai1.html. If there are any questions regarding the university’s policy on academic integrity, please talk the course instructor.

ADA Resources
If you think you need an accommodation for a disability, please let us know at your earliest convenience. Some aspects of this course, such as the assignments, in-class activities, or the way we teach may be modified to facilitate your participation and progress. As soon as you make us aware of your needs, we can work with you, the Disability Resource Center to help determine appropriate accommodations. We will treat any information about your disability with the utmost discretion.

Students needing special accommodations or special services should contact the Disability Resource Center (http://drc.arizona.edu) and/or the SALT Center (http://www.salt.arizona.edu). Students with disabilities who require reasonable accommodations to fully participate in course activities or meet course requirements must register with the Disability Resource Center (DRC). If you qualify for services through DRC, please bring your letter of accommodation to me as soon as possible.

Grades/Evaluation

USP V.F.1.p
A grade of Superior (S), Pass (P), or F (Fail) will be given to each student in the internship course based on evaluation of the following components.

1. Completion of the hourly duty log noting an average of 3 hours per week of the 16 week internship period (48 hours, total). A portion of these hours (¼ or 12) should be completed in AASA. Team meeting hours are not included in this total.

2. Weekly reflective journal entries (250 words, roughly a paragraph) about the week’s activities, readings, and/or topics assigned by Supervisor(s). Journal topics are determined by the readings and discussion of the previous week.

3. A 4-page reflective and evaluative paper of the internship experience (due by the last day of classes) to the Supervisor.

4. Coordination and attendance at regular meetings with the Supervisor and team. Ideally, this is at the same each week but can vary as needed. This time does not count towards the hourly duty log.

5. Timely response to emails from the Internship Supervisor, other Interns, and AASA Staff (within 48 hours).

6. Planning, coordination, advertising and staffing specific AASA events as discussed in supervisory meetings.

7. Participation in and proof of completion for 2 of the following required trainings. A portion of these hours will count towards the hourly duty log with prior approval
   a. Both of the cultural center collaboration training, SafeZone General Training and Ally Development training, if not already completed
      i. (register early at https://deanofstudents.arizona.edu/lgbtqaffairs/safezone-training-schedule)
   b. Any Spring 2014 Intergroup Dialogue series
      i. (find out about them via AASA’s own Maria Moore or http://deanofstudents.arizona.edu/getting-involved/common-ground-alliance-project)
   c. A Bronze Certificate in any of the Atlas Program Tracks
      i. (for more information see http://leadership.arizona.edu/org/atlas/home)
   d. A training approved by the Internship Supervisor before attendance.
      i. Please provide written, official details about the training such as a flyer or brochure to the discussion.

Course Readings
All course readings will be made available on D2L.

This syllabus is subject to revision as needed and determined by the Supervisor(s). Any revisions will be discussed in the meeting time and shared via D2L.

SUPERVISOR’S INTERNSHIP EVALUATION FORM

This form, to be completed by the intern’s on-site supervisor, is meant to provide constructive feedback to the student and course instructor about the student’s relative strengths and weaknesses as demonstrated in the internship. Unless the evaluation is extremely positive or negative, it will not significantly affect the student’s grade for the internship, which is primarily based on the quality of the related academic coursework.

Student Name: ____________________________  Semester(s) of Internship: ____________________________

Sponsoring Organization: ____________________________  Organization Supervisor: ____________________________

The supervisor should evaluate the intern as objectively as possible by circling the number in each range that best describes the intern’s performance for that characteristic. If the quality in question is irrelevant to the work the student has been performing, please circle “N/A” (not applicable).

Test Requirements

- Pass the AIMS Test (Reading, Writing, Math)
- ACT® or SAT® test

Check with schools for specific requirements.

Other

- 3.0 unweighted Core GPA or 22 ACT® or 1540 SAT® (Critical Reading & Math)

Check with schools for specific requirements.
How Will I Pay for College?
- PCC tuition and fees are among the lowest in the nation for a two-year public community college.
- You may qualify for financial aid (www.fafsa.ed.gov).
- If you earn good grades in high school, meet financial need requirements and are an Arizona resident, you may be eligible for a Pell Grant (www.FAFSAaccaster.ed.gov), which does not have to be repaid.

How Important Are Grades?
- If your grade point average (GPA) in college preparatory courses taken in 10th through 12th grades is 3.0 or above, you automatically meet the minimum eligibility requirements for most programs.
- If your GPA is between 2.0 and 3.0, your eligibility depends on your GPA in combination with your ACT® or SAT® test score.

How Can Families Help Students Succeed?
- Help your child with homework and meet with teachers and counselors to discuss coursework that will prepare your child for college.
- Talk to your children about careers that interest them and what college they would like to attend.
- Research financial aid, scholarships and grants. Consider opening a college savings account at ScholarShare (www.scholarshare.com).
- Identify colleges and universities for your children to take campus tours and get information about programs, admission requirements and financial aid.

What Will Help Me Succeed?
- Develop a good relationship with your high school counselor.
- Visit www.pima.edu for information admission, financial aid, majors, campus virtual tours, student services and more.
- Develop a good relationship with your high school counselor.
- PCC Upward Bound Programs at the Downtown, East, Desert Vista and Northwest Campuses have information on admissions, campus virtual tours, student services, and more.

Follow the steps at each grade level

Sixth & Seventh Grades
- Talk to your school counselor about courses that will prepare you for college.
- Complete a college prep English course.
- Take mathematics courses, such as pre-Algebra.

Eighth Grade
- Take Algebra I.
- Take a language other than English.
- Take the ACT® EXPLORE®.
- Research the courses and grades required for admission to various colleges.

Ninth Grade
- Take required courses that meet college admission standards. These may include Algebra I, Geometry, college prep English and a foreign language.
- Take the ACT® EXPLORE®.
- Prepare for AIMS Reading, Writing and Math Assessments.

Tenth Grade
- Take Geometry or Algebra II.
- Take college prep English.
- Take ACT® PLAN®, which helps you prepare for the ACT®.
- Take part in enrichment programs and summer workshops in such subjects as music, science, engineering, writing and filmmaking.
- Prepare for AIMS Reading, Writing and Math Assessments.

Eleventh Grade
- Review with your school counselor the classes you need to take to meet college admission standards, including Algebra II or advanced math and English with emphasis on writing and critical reading.
- If you are taking Advanced Placement (AP) classes, you should register to take your AP exams in the spring. You can earn college credit for AP courses if you score well on the test(s).
- October: Register for the Preliminary SAT®/National Merit Scholarship. Also makes you eligible for a National Merit Scholarship.
- March-May: Register for any March test(s). You can earn college credit for AP courses if you score well on the test(s).
- Early September: Register for the October ACT® (www.actstudent.org) or SAT® (www.collegeboard.org); apply for scholarships (Check with your counselor or career center for information.)
- Early November: Register for the December ACT® or SAT® if you are retaking the exam.

Twelfth Grade
- Take English and other courses required for Arizona state university admission. Advanced math courses, such as Trigonometry or Analytic Geometry/Calculus, are also recommended.
- Take a 12th grade mathematics course with a prerequisite of Algebra or Algebra II to improve your math skills.
- Early September: Register for the October ACT® (www.actstudent.org) or SAT® (www.collegeboard.org); apply for scholarships (Check with your counselor or career center for information.)
- Early November: Register for the December ACT® or SAT® if you are retaking the exam.
- March-May: Register for any college assessment tests, unless you are exempt.
- Late Spring: Students taking AP classes should take the AP exams. You can earn college credit for AP courses if you score well on the tests.
Origins of Black History Month

Historian, educator, author, and publisher, Carter G. Woodson was born in 1875 in New Canton, Virginia. The son of freed slaves, Woodson worked as a sharecropper and a miner to help his family. After high school, Woodson attended college and earned his doctorate from Harvard University in 1912—becoming one of the first African Americans to earn a Ph.D. at the institution. After college, he committed himself to studying and promoting African American history to be taught in schools. As a result, Woodson is often known as the "Father of Black History."

In 1915, Woodson helped found the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (later called the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History). The next year he established the Journal of Negro History (now the Journal of African American History), a scholarly publication. Woodson also formed the African American owned Associated Publishers Press in 1921, producing his own works, including The Negro in Our History (1922) and Mis-Education of the Negro (1933).

Woodson lobbied schools and organizations to participate in a special program to encourage the study of African American history, which began in February 1926 with Negro History Week and was later expanded and renamed Black History Month. To help teachers with African American studies, he created the Negro History Bulletin in 1937. While Woodson died on April 3, 1950, his work continues on. Every February, students around the United States spend time learning about the subject closest to his heart—African American history.

The Dunbar School was the first and only segregated school in Tucson established in 1912. The school was completed in January 1918, for the purpose of educating Tucson's African American students and named after Paul Lawrence Dunbar, a renowned African American Poet. African American children in first through ninth grades attended Dunbar until 1951, when de-jure segregation was eliminated from the school systems of Arizona. When segregation in Arizona was eliminated, Dunbar School became the non-segregated John Spring Junior High School, and continued as such until 1978 when the school was closed permanently.

- Garrett A. Morgan invented the first automatic traffic signal and a gas mask used to rescue people.
- Otis Boykin invented electronic devices to guide missiles, IBM computers, and the control unit for the pacemaker.
- Lonnie G. Johnson, an engineer who performed spacecraft system design for NASA, invented the Super Soaker water gun – the #1 selling toy in America in 1991.
- Granville Woods, known as the Black Edison, invented devices for railway systems, air brakes and telegraph system that allowed communication between trains.
- Dr. Charles Drew discovered ways to store blood resulting in blood banks and the modern day blood transfusion.
- John Love invented the pencil sharpener in 1897.
- Sarah E. Goode invented a folding bed in 1885.
- Lewis Latimer invented the filament used to make a light bulb work.
- Dr. Shirley Jackson is credited with helping create fiber optic cables, call waiting, and caller ID.
- Dr. Patricia Bath, famous Ophthalmologist and inventor of the Laser phaco Probe and procedure is credited with modernizing the removal of cataracts.
- Dr. Benjamin Carson, the world’s most famous neurosurgeon, was the first to successfully separate Siamese twins joined at the brain in 1987.

The Tucson Black College Cultural Tour is a wonderful opportunity to visit Historical Black Colleges and Universities in the United States. This year we will be traveling through Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Students will be able to experience the college atmosphere of the South and learn the history and culture of several amazing colleges.

While on this tour, students will not only visit and tour colleges and universities, but will also be experiencing the rich cultural activities and events in the area.

The tour will depart from Tucson or Phoenix on Sunday, March 16, 2014 and return Sunday, March 23, 2014. The tentative price for this trip is $850 which may be reduced depending on the clubs fundraising efforts. It's not too late to attend the tour. Male Leadership Academy

The African American Student Services Department along with Goodwill Youth Mentoring Services facilitates the Male Leadership Academy, a holistic approach to creating proactive opportunities for middle school aged males. This will occur with exposure to specific curriculum content and visibility of successful male guest speakers from the community.

During the 2013-2014 school year, thirty 8th grade males will be selected on a first come, first serve basis. Students will learn proactive strategies leading to more participation and commitment to beneficial activities within their education and immediate community.

Main components of the academy are: consistent mentoring from men in the community (AASSD, businesses, fraternities, U of A, and other various organizations), service activities, and family bonding (parents can participate in meetings). This academy is structured to allow for the positive development of the students’ academic and socio-emotional well-being.

Students will also explore career options exposed to them through various contact with community leaders in the areas of science, business, education, and engineering. In addition, students will participate in the following activities:

- Exposure to guest speakers
- Outings (Kings of Cooking, MLK March, U of A Homecoming, etc.)
- Biweekly Meetings & Service Learning

A GUIDE FOR AFRICAN-AMERICAN PARENTS

How to Help Your Child
Prepare for College and Career

THIS GUIDE SHOWS YOU
▶ Why your child needs to prepare for college and a career
▶ How to tell if your child’s school has college-ready academic standards
▶ The special hurdles facing African-American students
▶ How to be an effective advocate for your child.
The adolescent years often bring stormy weather for teens and parents alike. When you’re arguing over grades, dates, chores, or simple respect, it’s easy to lose sight of long-term goals that could secure your child’s future. But now’s the time to plan for success.

Just as President Obama has set a goal of returning America to world leadership in college attendance, you and your family need to focus squarely on the road to opportunity for your child: a rigorous high school academic program that leads not just to college admission but to college success as well.

Because equality for our kids remains a work in progress, African-American parents must be prepared to stand up for their child’s right to a good education. And that means helping them get the classes they need now for success beyond high school.

USP V.F.1.p
HELP YOUR CHILD PREPARE FOR COLLEGE AND A CAREER

Consider this: In 1950, 60 percent of jobs were filled by unskilled workers, but by 2005, just 14 percent of jobs fell into this category. Today, even fewer jobs exist for people without education beyond high school. What’s more, many entry-level jobs that don’t require a college degree require the same skills all colleges require—an ability to speak and write clearly—and many occupations that may not require a bachelor’s degree nevertheless demand high-level math and science skills.

For example, plumbers and construction workers nowadays need four or five years of apprenticeship or training. They need to be able to understand complex technical manuals and solve problems that often involve applying skills in mathematics, physics, or statistics.

College graduates have access to many more jobs and are less likely to be unemployed than those with a high school diploma. Young people with college degrees are more likely to get a job with such benefits as health insurance, a retirement fund, paid vacations, and disability insurance. And according to the latest Census Bureau data, college grads on average earn far more annually as well:

- College diploma: $56,788
- High school diploma: $31,071
- No high school diploma: $20,873

Over a lifetime, the difference in salary between a high school graduate and a college graduate amounts to nearly $1 million. So it just makes good sense to help your child prepare now for college and a career.

IS YOUR CHILD’S SCHOOL FOCUSED ON SUCCESS BEYOND HIGH SCHOOL?

Today, many schools have exactly the right goal: educating all students for college and a career. These schools have high expectations. They hire the best teachers they can find. They’ve developed rigorous curricula and offer demanding courses. And teachers give students challenging assignments. No one makes excuses for low achievement; instead, principals and teachers work hard to give each student what he or she needs to succeed.

On the other hand, some schools talk a good game but are not really providing the best possible education. These schools give fancy names to simple courses that don’t prepare kids for college. They rate all their teachers “high quality,” not just the very best ones. And they allow students to take a hodgepodge of classes, not a well-planned sequence of courses that colleges expect students to master.

No matter where you live, you need to know the courses that can help your child get into college—and meet academic expectations once they enroll. Some states require all students to take college-prep courses to graduate, but many have mismatching requirements for high school graduation and college admission.

Remember, research clearly shows that the best predictor of college success is a rigorous high school program of study. So as you help your child explore options for college, you might find the college’s catalogue or Web site lists courses like this:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Content Area</th>
<th>Common courses for college admission and success</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>English (4)</td>
<td>Four years of English</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Math (4)</td>
<td>Algebra 1, Geometry, Algebra 2, and high-level math in 12th grade</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Science (3)</td>
<td>At least three years with labs (typical courses include Biology, Chemistry, Physics)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Studies (3)</td>
<td>Typical courses include World History, American History, Civics, Economics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Language (2)</td>
<td>At least two years of a second language in sequence (i.e., Spanish 1, Spanish 2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Speak with your child’s principal and teachers to find out whether the school really offers a college and career-ready curriculum. And make sure your child enrolls in the required classes and makes steady progress in earning the right credits needed to get into college—and succeed once there.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDENTS FACE SOME TOUGH CHALLENGES

Given lingering racism in this country, you won’t be surprised to learn this: African-American students are much less likely than white students to have the most qualified teachers—the ones with the most experience and greatest expertise in the subject matter.

And many African-American students go to schools that do not even offer some of the high-level courses necessary for admission to the best colleges. This is a terrible injustice. The tragic consequence is that African-American graduates are nearly half as likely to finish high school with a rigorous academic diploma as white students.

The best schools encourage all students to aspire to the most challenging courses. Then they provide plenty of academic support for those struggling with assignments, and they don’t lower standards. This support includes concentrated help on specific skill sets during the school day and extended-day options.

HOW YOU CAN BE AN EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE FOR YOUR CHILD

Until every school gives all students an education that prepares them for college and a career, African-American parents will have to fight for their children’s future, class by class, teacher by teacher, and school by school. Your child deserves nothing less.

A strong high school education is a legacy that lasts, a gift that can propel your child on a journey of independence. When equipped with the learning today’s world demands, our young people can begin to truly live their dreams.
HOW YOU CAN HELP IMPROVE YOUR CHILD’S EDUCATION

Set clear expectations
- Let your child know you expect him or her to go to college—nothing less.

Be an advocate at school
- Meet with your child’s teachers and counselor. Together, map a course of study that prepares your child for college. Ask to see your child’s schedule and transcript to be sure your child is taking college-prep courses, including honors, Advanced Placement, and dual enrollment if available. It is never too early to plan for college—as early as middle school—and it is important to let the school know you expect your child to attend college.
- Get a copy of the state academic standards for each subject, and make sure you know what your child should be learning. Look at your child’s homework and ask for a syllabus or outline of the work your child will receive during the year. If you’re alarmed after comparing the state standards with the syllabus or outline or the homework, discuss your concerns with the teacher and principal. For more information, see our homework guide at www.edtrust.org.
- If your child struggles in a specific subject, ask the teacher or principal about a plan to help your child learn. (Beware if they lack a plan or tell you not to worry.) Insist your child receive appropriate extra help through tutoring, after-school support, and lunch-time support—whatever it takes.
- Check with the principal to find out whether your child’s teachers are certified to teach a specific subject and their number of years of experience. If you’re dissatisfied, ask for a different teacher.
- Ask the principal for data to find out how the school’s African-American students score on tests, how many graduate, and how many go on to college. If your child’s school is doing poorly, reach out to other parents and express your concerns collectively.

Be an advocate at home
- Find out the high school course requirements for competitive four-year colleges that interest you and your teenager. Check the admissions page on the college’s Web site for this information as well as www.collegeboard.org. And find out whether your state requires any extra courses for graduation (such as health, physical education, and art).
- Learn all you can about college financial aid. Students and parents often overestimate the costs and underestimate the amount of available financial aid. Use the FAFSA4caster to receive an early estimate of how much federal student aid your child is eligible for: https://fafsa4caster.ed.gov.
- Find out which colleges offer your child the best chances of success. Visit College Results Online, www.collegeresults.org, to compare different colleges’ graduation rates and to find those with a strong track record of graduating African-American students.
- Find outside help to navigate the college admissions process. Many libraries, community centers, and colleges themselves offer help to students and parents, including help filling out college application and financial aid forms.

ABOUT THE EDUCATION TRUST

The Education Trust promotes high academic achievement for all students at all levels—pre-kindergarten through college. We work alongside educators, parents, policymakers, and community and business leaders across the country to help transform schools and colleges into institutions that serve all students well. Lessons learned in these efforts, together with unflinching data analyses, shape our state and national policy agendas. Our goal is to close the gaps in opportunity and achievement that consign far too many young people—especially those who are black, Latino, American Indian, or from low-income families—to lives on the margins of the American mainstream.

This publication is made possible through the generous support of the Annie E. Casey Foundation.
YOUNG MEN'S LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

On February 27, 2014, President Obama signed a memorandum: "My Brother's Keeper"- Creating and Expanding Ladders of Opportunity for Boys and Young Men of Color.

In response to this initiative, we the Southern Arizona Black College Community Support Group are preparing to provide young men of color an opportunity to "Prepare for the Challenges of the 21st Century" as follows:

- Prepare children to become life-long learners
- Create an atmosphere of self-worth and build self-esteem
- Coach, encourage and direct African American males to enter college
- Assist with course selection needed to qualify for entry into college

Our organization has created many opportunities for youth to fulfill their dreams by:

- Visiting our Historical Black Colleges and Universities
- Attending educational and career planning workshops for students and parents
- Attending African American Youth Heritage Day
- Teaching parents how to navigate and become their child's advocate in the public school system.

We are launching three (3) sessions to begin our outreach. Our plan is to provide on-going opportunities for our community of color.

TARGET DATE FOR SESSION #1:

DATE: SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 2014
LOCATION: DOWNTOWN LIBRARY LOWER LEVEL.. 101 N STONE..FREE PARKING IN GARAGE
TIME: 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM

LUNCH WILL BE SERVED AND A MONETARY INCENTIVE GIVEN AT THE END OF THE THIRD SESSION

NOTE: WE HAVE LIMITED TRANSPORTATION, IF NEEDED. LET US KNOW ASAP.

Let's work together to put Tucson on the map. The sessions will be filmed and posted on our website and Facebook. Additionally, we will forward these sessions to President Obama. We'll need parental approval for your child to be filmed. There will be a session for the parents only that bring their child.

Please RSVP to ptlcephers@yahoo.com". Reference : "YOUNG MEN'S LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE".

- Create an atmosphere of self-worth and build self-esteem
- Coach, encourage and direct African American males to enter college
- Assist with course selection needed to qualify for entry into college

Our organization has created many opportunities for youth to fulfill their dreams by:

- Visiting our Historical Black Colleges and Universities
- Attending educational and career planning workshops for students and parents
- Attending African American Youth Heritage Day
- Teaching parents how to navigate and become their child’s advocate in the public school system.

We are launching three (3) sessions to begin our outreach. Our plan is to provide on-going opportunities for our community of color.

TARGET DATE FOR SESSION #1:

DATE: SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 2014
LOCATION: DOWNTOWN LIBRARY LOWER LEVEL.. 101 N STONE..FREE PARKING IN GARAGE
TIME: 10:00 AM - 2:00 PM

LUNCH WILL BE SERVED AND A MONETARY INCENTIVE GIVEN AT THE END OF THE THIRD SESSION

NOTE: WE HAVE LIMITED TRANSPORTATION, IF NEEDED. LET US KNOW ASAP.

Let’s work together to put Tucson on the map. The sessions will be filmed and posted on our website and Facebook. Additionally, we will forward these sessions to President Obama. We’ll need parental approval for your child to be filmed. There will be a session for the parents only that bring their child.

Please RSVP to ptlcephers@yahoo.com”. Reference: "YOUNG MEN'S LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE".
