Quarter/Approximate Number of Days:

Unit Name: World War II From Isolationism to Intervention

PO cluster(s):
Concept 8: Great Depression & WWII (SSHS-S1C8)

PO 2. Describe the impact of American involvement in World War II:
- movement away from isolationism
- economic recovery from the Great Depression
- homefront transformations in the roles of women and minorities
- Japanese, German, and Italian internments and POW camps
- war mobilization (e.g., Native American Code-Talkers, minority participation in military units, media portrayal)
- turning points such as Pearl Harbor, D-Day, Hiroshima/Nagasaki

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings
- Perhaps more than Roosevelt’s policies, WWII served to bring the U.S. out of the Great Depression
- Early in the war the U.S. interest were purely commercial and isolationist and that stance quickly shifted with the bombing of Pearl Harbor.
- The U.S. was forced to fight the war on two fronts, the Pacific and European theatres.
- At home, the war had a terrific impact on a many different groups of citizens from women to blacks and Latinos and Native Americans.
- Native, Mexican, African, Jewish, and Japanese Americans all had vital contributions to the war effort.

Essential Question(s)
- Was isolationism too costly for the U.S. to practice at all?
- Was there a better solution to the division of Germany following WWII?
- Should the United States have used nuclear weapons on Japan?
- How did Americans from different backgrounds contribute to the war effort?
- Was denazification ultimately successful?

Students research the “Double V” program for civil right and integration on the home front following World War II.

Examine Takaki reading to learn about the role of Native Americans during World War II.

Create own version of the Double V program in the classroom and other common areas around the school.
- Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
- Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, publish, and update individual or shared writing products in response to ongoing feedback, including new arguments or information.

PO cluster(s):

Concept 9: Postwar United States – 1945-1970s (SSHS-S1C9)

PO 2. Describe aspects of American post-World War II domestic policy:
- a. McCarthyism
- b. Civil Rights (e.g., Birmingham, 1964 Civil Rights Act, Voting Rights Act, Constitutional Amendments)
- c. Supreme Court Decisions (e.g., the Warren and Burger Courts)
- d. Executive Power (e.g., War Powers Act, Watergate)
- e. social reforms Great Society and War on Poverty
- f. Space Race and technological developments

PO 3. Describe aspects of post World War II American society:
- a. postwar prosperity (e.g., growth of suburbs, baby boom, GI Bill)
- b. popular culture (e.g., conformity v. counter-culture, mass-media)
- c. protest movements (e.g., anti-war, women’s rights, civil rights, farm workers, César Chavez)
- d. assassinations (e.g., John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King, Jr., Robert F. Kennedy, Malcolm X)
- e. shift to increased immigration from Latin America and Asia

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings

- America on the home front during the Cold War era was defined by fear of communism and an emphasis on loyalty.
- Civil Rights battles in the streets, courts and Congress helped redress institutionalized bias and prejudice for African American and other groups.
- Competition with the Soviet Union resulted in an emphasis on technological development especially related to space exploration.
- In the U.S., relative economic prosperity following WW II led to a population boom and an increased standard of living for most Americans.

Essential Question(s)

- What movements for Social Justice occurred after World War II?
- What role did Johnson’s Great Society ideals play in supporting a rising middle class?
- What role did fear, competition and expanding executive power have in creating the Watergate scandal?
- How did domestic policies during the post WW II era contribute a population boom?
- What was the long-term political effect of several key assassinations of national leaders during this period?

PO cluster(s):
Concept 10: Contemporary United States – 1970s-Present (SSHS-S1C10)
PO 3. Describe how key political, social, environmental and economic events of the late 20th century and early 21st century (e.g., Watergate, OPEC/oil crisis, Central American wars/Iran-Contra, End of Cold War, first Gulf War, September 11) affected, and continue to affect, the United States.

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings
- The country as a whole began a swing in favor of conservative ideals during this period that continued through the 21st century.
- Federal policies favored both deregulation and deficit spending with an emphasis on increases for the military.
- U.S. foreign policy was defined by new iterations of the proxy wars fought to confront communism in the 1950’s and 1960’s.
- Terrorism by nonstate players had a major impact of U.S. foreign policy.

Essential Question(s)
- How did a fear of the Soviet Union continue to define U.S. foreign policy during this era?
- How were a variety of agendas factors in the response of the invasion of Kuwait and the response to September 11th?

Unit Name: THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE THIRTEEN COLONIES & THE EVOLUTION OF COLONIAL SOCIETY 1620-1711

PO cluster(s):

Concept 3: Exploration and Colonization – IS00s-1700s (SHHS-S1C3)

PO1. Review the reciprocal impact resulting from early European contact with indigenous peoples:
   a. religious (e.g., conversion attempts)  b. economic (e.g., land disputes, trade)  c. social (e.g., spread of disease, partnerships)  d. food (e.g., corn)
   e. government (e.g., Iroquois Confederacy, matriarchal leadership, democratic influence)

PO 2. Describe the reasons for colonization of America (e.g., religious freedom, desire for land, economic opportunity, and a new life).

PO 3. Compare the characteristics of the New England, Middle, and Southern colonies:
   a. colonial governments  b. geographic influences, resources, and economic systems  c. religious beliefs and social patterns

PO 4. Describe the impact of key colonial figures (e.g., John Smith, William Penn, Roger Williams, Anne Hutchinson, John Winthrop).

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings

Economic difficulties in Europe, the desire to acquire raw materials, and religious tensions all caused Europeans to become interested in the Americas. The history of oppression is also the history of resistance and human resiliency. European contact with Indigenous Americans and Africans had catastrophic consequences that outweigh any benefit the European nations received.

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings

- The colonists’ War for Independence galvanized the dispossessed and the advocates of full equality, thus demanding their opportunity for liberty and equality from oppression within the new nation. The colonists formed the Continental Congress to act as a government during the American Revolution.
- The Treaty of Paris ended the Revolutionary War. In this treaty, American independence was recognized by the British and large amounts of territory west of the Appalachian became American territory.
- The rule of monarchy was replaced with the colonial elite while maintaining the status quo of limited citizenship based upon property, gender and race.

Essential Question(s)

- What influenced the colonists to begin questioning their roles as subjects of the British monarchy?
- What role did Native Americans, Africans, and women play in the American Revolution?
- What caused the British to pass legislation to stop colonists from settling new western lands and to impose new taxes?
- How did the Americans fight a war without proper training or equipment?
- What major disadvantages did the British face in the American Revolution?
- How was slavery, sexism, racism, and religious oppression a factor in the cause of the Revolutionary War?

Quarter/Approximate Number of Days:

Unit Name: Westward Expansion and Manifest Destiny
PO cluster(s): Concept 5: Westward Expansion (SSHS-S1C5)

PO 1. Trace the growth of the American nation during the period of western expansion

PO 2. Analyze how the following events affected the political transformation of the developing nation: Jefferson’s Presidency, War of 1812, Jackson’s Presidency

PO 3. Identify how economic incentives and geography influenced early American explorations:

PO 4. Describe the impact of European-American expansion on native peoples.

PO 5. Describe the impact of the following aspects of the Industrial Revolution on the United States: transportation improvements (e.g., railroads, canals, steamboats), factory system manufacturing, urbanization, inventions (e.g., telegraph, cotton gin, interchangeable parts)

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings
A new production system developed in textile mills such as those existed in Lowell, Massachusetts, in the early nineteenth century.

Beginning in 1824, it was official American policy to move Native-American tribes east of the Mississippi.

The Monroe Doctrine proclaimed that the Western Hemisphere was off limits to European intrusion.

The issue of slavery in the territories came to dominate American political debate more and more in the 1840s and 1850s.

The Dred Scott decision only intensified tensions between the North and the South

Essential Question(s)
How did U.S. policies affect American Indian nations and tribes?
Is war ever just?
Was Manifest Destiny a violation of the founding principles of the United States?
How was the idea of “benevolence” and “guardianship” used to justify domination.

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings

- Success for the Confederacy depended on European aid; the Southerners underestimated the dependence of Europe on Southern crops.
- The North had numerous industrial, transportation, and financial advantages that they utilized throughout the Civil War.

Essential Question(s)

- Why did some members of Lincoln’s own Republican Party disagree with him over the war?
- How did Southern pride and tradition interfere with the South’s ability to win the war?
- Why did Lincoln issue the Emancipation Proclamation and what events affected the timing of the proclamation?
- What compels a group of citizens to fight against their own government and people?
- Does Abraham Lincoln deserve to be called the “Great Emancipator?”
- Was Reconstruction a time of Progress?
- Does racial equality depend upon government action?
- How does point of view impact the historical perspective of an event?
- Write informative/explanatory texts, including the narration of historical events, scientific procedures/experiments, or technical processes.
- Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, publish, and update individual or shared writing products in response to ongoing feedback, including new arguments or information.

| Summarize acts of violent oppression used to terrorize black communities into compliance with Jim Crow and white supremacy. | Evaluate the moral, economic, and social implications of each. |
| Create a dialogue between proponents of African American male suffrage and the universal suffrage, identifying their claims and evidence in support of their positions. |
| Design and create a mural of images and text that illustrates the impact of African American participation in the civil war. |
