5th Annual

University of Arizona Youth Symposium for Social Justice & Ethnic Studies

Saturday, May 4 2019 | 8:30 AM- 4 PM
Cesar E. Chavez Bldg., University of Arizona

Welcome to the 5th Annual Youth Symposium for Social Justice and Ethnic Studies, presented by Collaborative Research in Action (CRiA).

Today, elementary, middle, and high school students share their research with other youth, college students, educators, community leaders, family, and the general public. Our conference bridges communication between people and connects age groups, institutions, and geographies.

This gathering is made possible with the support of Adalberto & Ana Guerrero Student Center, Mexican American Studies Department, Immigrant Student Resource Center, Mexican American Student Services Department at TUSD, Culturally Responsive Pedagogy & Instruction at TUSD, Early Academic Outreach at the University of Arizona, Teaching, Learning & Sociocultural Studies at the University of Arizona.

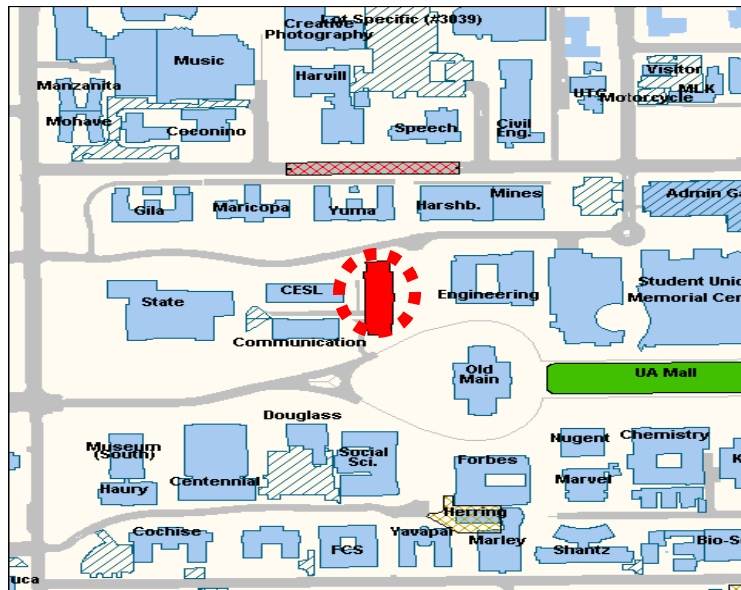

Special thanks to the organizers: Gabriel A. Higuera, Cathy D. Gastelum, Alexia Mora, Jessica Bernal-Mejia and Connie Y. Lira-Saavedra.

To the volunteers and moderators, thank you.

Finally, thanks to the educators, community organizers, and teachers. You not only engage in critical pedagogy and social justice education with students and youth but also exemplify what it really means by connecting the classroom experience to the world. Thank you for advocating within your own spaces, schools, and districts to make this opportunity possible.

At this gathering
we honor and center
youth voices in a positive environment.
Here, we are all learners.
