Join us for a special opportunity to meet Sam Fine! Sam has worked on everyone from Beyoncé to Vice President Kamala Harris. He literally wrote the book on makeup and beauty techniques for African-American women. He has helped educate everyday women about how to look their best, and has helped change the way African Americans – and the cosmetic companies – think about makeup.

Sam is one of the most sought-after and highly paid makeup artists in the fashion and entertainment industries.

Sam will be speaking about setting goals, perseverance, working in the fashion and movie industry and maybe he'll even spill tea about some celebrities!
